

BioMedical Admissions Test (BMAT)

All applicants for Medical Sciences are required to take a two-hour written test, the BMAT test, in an authorised test centre. The BMAT test is administered by the Admissions Testing Service and will be taken on Thursday 2 November 2017. Further information about the test, including details on the registration process, entry fees, key dates and specimen papers can be found on the BMAT website at: <http://www.admissionstesting-service.org/for-test-takers/bmat/about-bmat/>.

All BMAT entries must be made by the test centre administering the BMAT by 1 October 2017. Candidates currently attending a school or college should approach their Examinations Officer to find out if their school is willing to administer the BMAT for them. If you are unable to sit the BMAT in your school, you should use the search facility on the BMAT website to find an authorised test centre near you. Candidates not attending a school or college will need to find an authorised test centre where they can sit the test. If you cannot find a centre near you, you should contact the BMAT Support Team.

Candidates should discuss BMAT costs with their centre as some centres may charge an additional administration fee on top of the entry fees. UK and EU applicants in receipt of certain financial support may apply for their BMAT fees to be reimbursed. Please visit <http://www.admissionstesting-service.org/for-test-takers/bmat/faqs/> for further details.

When you have registered for the test, please ensure that you enter your BMAT candidate number (omitting the 'B' prefix) on your COPA or Supplementary Application Questionnaire (SAQ).

If you experience any problems finding an authorised test centre, it is essential that you contact the BMAT Support Team as soon as possible. Contact details are as follows:
